ACCENT ON WOMEN AT LOCAL LITTLE THEATRE

All women, no men—this is the treat in store for local theatre goers when Accent theatre presents Clara Boothe Luce's modern classic "The Women."

At Torrance high school auditorium on Saturday, November 17, the opening night audience will view this sophisticated comedy as interpreted by a cast of 35 women. Subsequent performances will be given on Friday and Saturday, November 23 and 24.

Pat Cantle, who will be remembered for her performance in "The Fourposter," heads director Stan Johnson's cast as Mary, the idealistic wife beleaguered by "friends." Bonnie Anderson brings her professional experience to role of Sylvia, the malicious femme fatale. Beverly Hylls plays Crystal—the other woman.

Judy Sagenkahn adds a comical note with her portrayal of Edith Potter, the ever-pregnant, commiserating friend. Wanda Lawrence plays Nancy, the acid-tongued career woman and Lola Kelley interprets Peggy, the searching young wife. The famous role of the Countess is played by Nadine Nickol, actress and singer, who recently starred in the Morgan Theatre's production of "Rain."

Women Only in Accent Production

On November 17, 23, and 24, a cast of thirty-five women will highlight the Accent theatre production, "The Women." These three ladies give a sophisticated note to the Clara Boothe Luce modern classic. They are (l-r) Beverly Hylls, Bonnie Anderson, and Marie Denn, as Crystal, Sylvia and Princess Tamara, respectively.
